CHRISTMAS MINISTRY RESOURCE

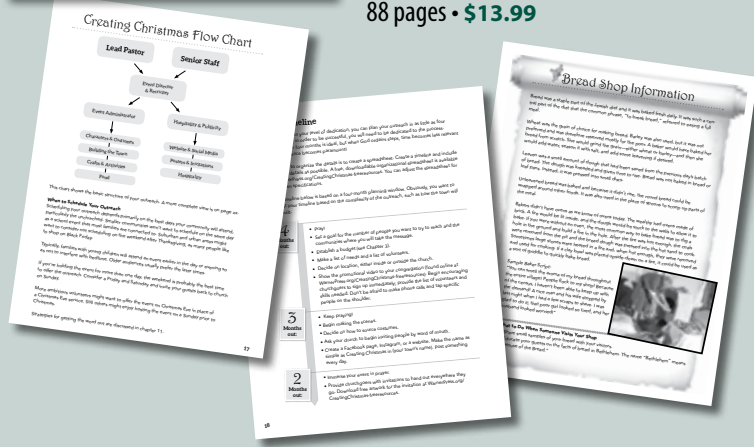

Re-creating Christmas

A DIY Outreach for Churches of Any Size

What do churches do to redeem the season within their communities? We create Christmas by offering an outreach where we plop our neighbors right in the middle of the first century Bethlehem. We set the scene, costume the characters, and enable them to EXPERIENCE the story. They become part of the narrative of Jesus coming to earth for them. Nothing is quite as personal or powerful.

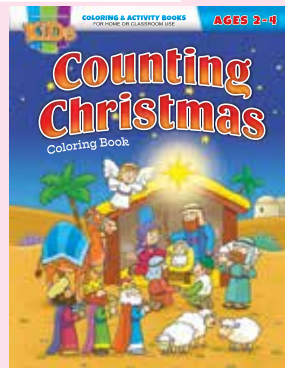

This book places in your hand the opportunity to dream, pray, and create a Christmas outreach for neighbors and an entire community, no matter the size of your church or budget. We provide the thinking, outline, ideas, online assistance, and encouragement. All you need are some volunteers, a creative budget, and a DIY attitude. There's no need to purchase an expensive kit when you invest in this one book.

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Warner E. Sallman was born in Chicago, Illinois, April 30, 1892. He said, "My talent for painting and illustrating developed in me from early youth, and by divine direction I was led step-by-step toward a ministry of Christian art." Sallman attempted his first oil painting at the age of ten in the attic studio used by his father, also an artist. It was not until 1941, however, that Sallman's charcoal sketch, Head of Christ, gained enough recognition to be painted as an oil and was published by Kriebel & Bates, Inc.

10. How to Pray: A Biblical
 Continue steadfastly in prayer, being watchful at all times.
 Colossians 4:2

"Lord, teach us to pray" (Luke 11:1)

- And God heard Jesus' prayers because of His love.
- Let us come to Him with thanksgiving (Psalm 95:6)
- So let us come boldly to the throne of our gracious God.
- But when you ask Him, be sure that your faith is sincere.

Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

- loving
- merciful
- eternal
- infinite
- wise
- good
- sustainer
- righteous
- just
- patient

The kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.

- Fear in the Lord with all your heart, and do not forget to keep His commandments, for this is love, that you may abide in Him, and He will abide in you.

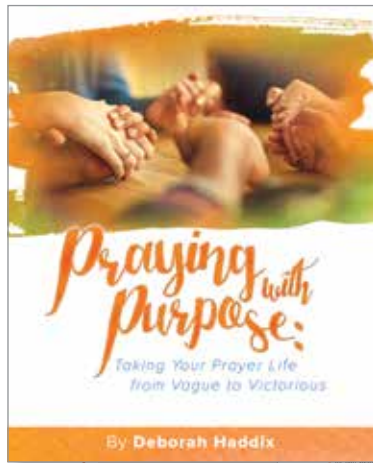

Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

- The Lord is near to all who call on Him, to all who call on Him in truth.

Keep us from temptation, Lord, for we are weak. Deliver us from the evil one, for we are not strong.

Always pray and never give up (Luke 18:1).

Pray for all people; for those in authority, for peace and tranquility, and for the salvation of all men.

Our Encouragement

"To the world you may be one person but to one person you may be the world."

Prayers to Pray

Pray in your heart, believing what God says, and it will be done (Romans 10:10).

Pray for your loved ones with real joy in your heart. Thank Him for each one of them as you pray for them (Philippians 1:3-4).

Pray about anything concerning the one for whom you are praying, offering by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be known to God (Philippians 4:6).

Pray without ceasing (1 Thessalonians 5:17).

For those you love have great power as they are working (James 5:16).

In our passion, we cannot control others. They will not always listen and obey. They may seldom, if ever, write or call or visit, but God of our relationship with them. They belong to us. May we never stop (1 Samuel 12:23).

When you pray day after day, year after year, for those God has entrusted to you through a special relationship of some sort, know that your prayers are not in vain.

This type of journaling is pretty much as it sounds. It is a journaling method that combines several different types of your preferred journaling methods.

Recently, after conducting a ladies' retreat on Journaling Across the Sea, I received a phone call from one of the participants. She shared about her grandchildren, about Praying in Color for a time at her church, and about journaling by combining several of the journaling methods introduced to at the retreat.

Materials:

- Pen or pencil
- Selected portion of Scripture (Psalm 23, Psalm 34, 1 Corinthians 13, The Sermon on the Mount, The Parable of the Sower)
- Colored pencils, colored pens, markers
- Computer images, magazines
- Adhesives
- Optional: washie tapes, stamps and stamp pads, stickers, and other supplies

Step 1: Write out the text of your selected Scripture on the pages of your journal. Be sure to skip one or two lines as you write.

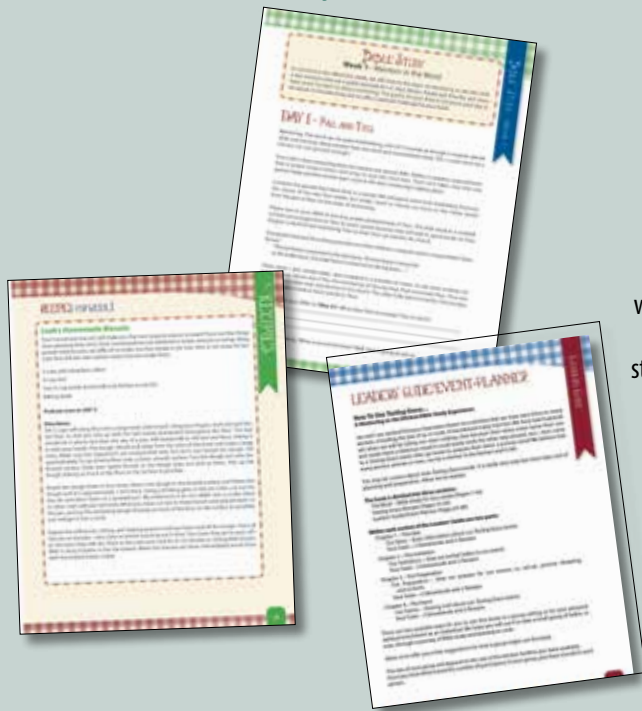

Step 2: Add your thoughts, reflections, and questions on the pages or in the white space surrounding the text.

Discipleship That Transforms

The goal of Christian education is more than increased knowledge; it's a transformed life. In this introductory textbook, fourteen educators from the Wesleyan Holiness tradition focus on how that principle guides the educational and discipleship ministries of the church. They believe that Wesleyan theology requires a more transformative approach to Christian education than Roman Catholic or other Protestant systems do. With examples from the educational programs of local congregations, they show how this approach opens new doors of opportunity for parish ministry in the twenty-first century.

Lost in Logistics

A step-by-step guide to transform your board and get your ministry moving

Many churches are governing on old, out-dated bylaws, and old ways of doing business. As church membership/attendance declines, there are fewer people to do the work of the church—discipleship. This book offers a solution, a remedy—perhaps even a cure—for the inner workings of churches, allowing ministry to again take center stage. When a church board is "of one mind" in the Lord and guiding the church to minister to its community and the world, the whole congregation will be spiritually changed.

Prevenient Grace
by W. Brian Shelton

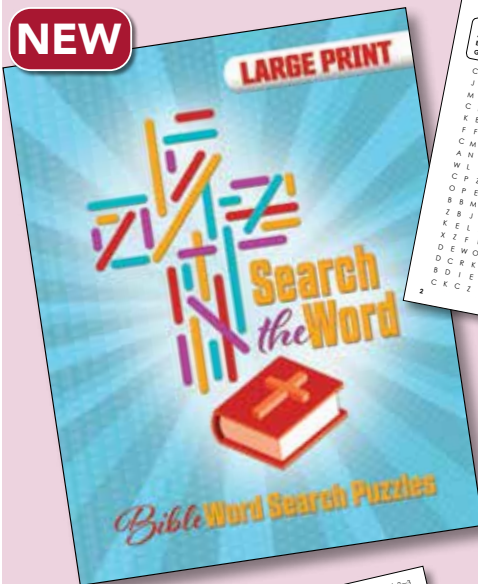

Evangelical Christian theology owes much to Jacobus Arminius's doctrine of prevenient grace—the idea that God enables fallen human beings to perceive the truth of the gospel and respond to it, despite their fallenness. This conviction moves Christians to engage in evangelism and foreign missions, confident that the Holy Spirit can prompt anyone to repent of their sins and begin following Christ.

EGERMEIER'S INTERACTIVE STORY BIBLE

When Moses came, the father said, "I am getting the priest of Midian. These are my daughters." As they talked, Jethro invited Moses to live among his people and to care for his flocks.

Later, one of Jethro's daughters became Moses' wife. For many years, Moses worked as a shepherd in the land of Midian. Because he was a stranger among the people of Midian, Moses learned to fear God, which means "to worship him."

Changes were taking place in Egypt. The old Pharaoh had died, and a new Pharaoh ruled. He represented the Israelites and made his own harder and more intolerable for them. Their hearts grew dark and they groaned beneath their heavy burdens. In anguish they cried to God, and He heard their prayer.

Questions

- What did Moses do wrong when he tried to help an Israelite?
- Why did Moses run away from Egypt?
- How did Moses die during when he reached Midian?
- What do you think Moses should have done when he saw the Egyptian beating the Israelite?
- What should you do when someone else wrong to you?

Moses and the Burning Bush
Exodus 3-4

Moses looked much different now from the young man who had lived at Pharaoh's palace. He no longer wore princely Egyptian robes. Now, he wore the coarse dress of a shepherd, and in his hand was a long shepherd's staff. Day after day and year after year, he had cared for his father-in-law's sheep. During the night, the sun and wind had burned his face and hands, while the scorching sun had withered his hair.

One day, Moses led his flock to a green pasture near the foot of Mount Horeb. There he saw a flame of fire leaping out of a bush. He watched, expecting to see the bush become ash, but the flame did not burn the bush.

"What a strange sight!" thought Moses. "I must take a closer look at this," as he stepped toward the bush, a voice called from the flame, "Moses! Moses!"

Moses replied, "Here I am."

"Do not come near the bush," the voice said. "Take off your shoes because you are standing on holy ground."

Moses knew right away that God was speaking to him because it was the custom for a person to remove his shoes when approaching a sacred place. Sure because he was afraid to look at the flame again.

"I am the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob," the voice said. "I have seen the suffering of My people, the Israelites. I have heard their cries. Now, I have come to deliver them from the Egyptians and to bring them into the land that I promised their fathers."

Moses must have been glad to hear his good news! But the voice continued, "Come now, and I will send you to Pharaoh, so you may lead My people out of Egypt."

"Who am I that I should lead My people out of Egypt?" Moses asked the Lord. "That job is too big for me to do."

"I will go with you and help you do it," answered the voice. "And when you bring the Israelites to the land that I promised to give to your fathers, you will know that I have been with you."

"Build an ark," God told Noah. "When it is finished, you and your wife and your sons and their wives will go into the ark. You will live there until the flood is over."

God decided to save a pair of each kind of living thing. These would also stay in the ark during the flood.

Noah believed God, and he began building the ark. God had said from how it should be built. While the people were their wicked way, Noah and his sons made the ark as God had said. It looked like a three-story houseboat perched on an dry land.

The people must have thought Noah and his sons were crazy. They laughed at Noah and made fun of him. Again and again, Noah warned the people to repent of their sins, or they would be destroyed in the flood. No one believed him.

When everything was ready, God told Noah to take his wife, his three sons, and their wives into the ark. Then God caused two of every kind of animal, bird, and creeping thing to go into the ark, seven pairs of each kind of land and animal came. When all were inside, God shut the door.

After a few days, the rain began to fall. Great sheets of water poured down from the clouds. Soon, the dry streams were raging, and the rivers were overflowing their banks. People left their homes and rushed to the hills for safety. Animals ran past-mad, trying to find shelter. Still, it rained higher and higher the waters rose. Now, the people knew Noah had told the truth.

For forty days and nights, it rained. Only Noah and his family were safe. The waters lifted the ark off the ground, and the ark began to float. For more than six months, it floated. Then one day it came to rest on top of a mountain. After waiting for some time, Noah opened a window and let out a dove. This bird had strong wings and could fly around until the waters had gone down. Several days later, Noah sent out a dove. The dove returned because she could not find a place to rest for her feet. A week later, Noah sent the dove back, bringing a green olive leaf in her beak. Now, Noah and his family knew the land was becoming green and beautiful. The next week, when Noah sent out the dove, she flew away and never came back.

Finally, Noah believed it was time to announce the ark and look out to see the world. He must have been so glad to see dry land again! For more than a year, his family and the animals had been inside the ark.

God said to Noah, "Come out of the ark with your wife and your sons and their wives and every living thing that is in the ark."

Noah opened the large door. He and his family stepped out on dry ground. All the animals, the birds, and the creeping things came out.

Noah was thankful to be alive. As soon as he came out of the ark, he built an altar and made his offering to God. God accepted the offering and was pleased with Noah and his family.

God promised that He would never again send another flood to destroy every living creature. God said, "As long as the earth remains, there will be summer and winter, springtime and autumn, day and night." To remind people of His promise, God made the rainbow in the sky.

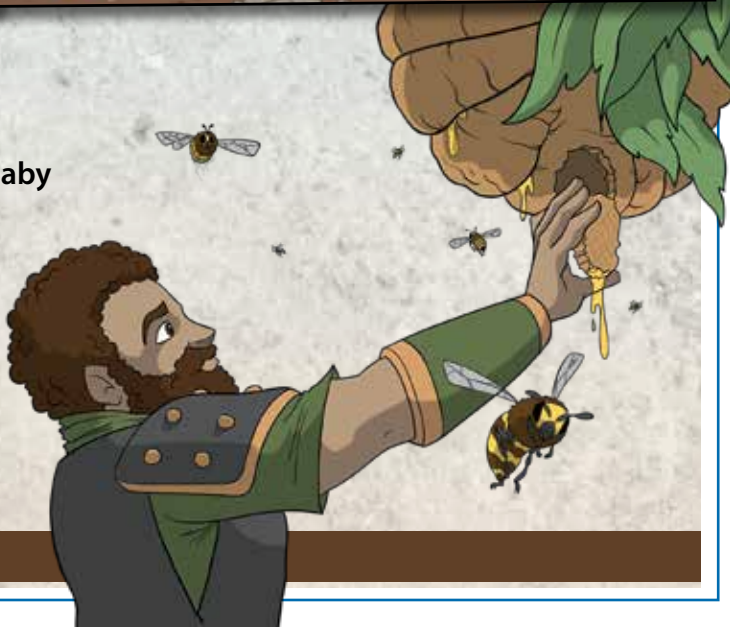

Questions

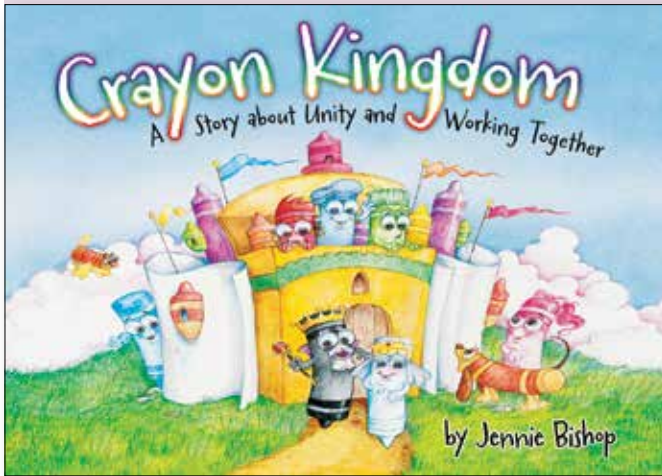

- Why did God plan to destroy the people in the world?
- How did God keep Noah safe when the flood came?
- What do you remember Noah's promise to Noah today?
- Have you ever felt like God was asking you to do something that would seem crazy to other people? Did you do it? What happened?

IDEAL USES

- Great gift for special occasions, baby dedications, baby showers, baptism, birthdays, and first communions
- Useful for outreach to non-believers or with new believers who are unfamiliar with the Bible
- Grandparents also love reading it to their grandchildren!
